

Bingus on the Loose

Last Thursday, tragedy struck the Snyder family when their beloved cat Copper (otherwise known as Bingus) ran away. One boy appears to be the most distraught. Evan Snyder, Copper's best pal is here to comment on his disappearance.

““When I heard Copper ran away, I came home from school immediately, just the thought of losing him scares me. He's been the best cat I could ever imagine. He always brings us all types of animals and never says no to cuddles. I'm shocked that he could just run away like that.” ”

The manhunt for Copper continues for the 8th day in a row. After all, a Bingus is on the loose.
